INPECTINE, THE PERSIAN FEVER CHARM, MOR the prevention and cure of Ferer and Ague and Bilious Fevers. This wonderful remedy was brought to the knowledge of the present proprietors by a friend who has been a great traveler in Persia and the Holy land.

perienced a secure attack of Fever and Ague. On discovering his condition, one of the Boatmen took from his person an Amulet, saying, "Wear this and no Fecer will touch you." Although incredulous as to its virtues; he complied, and experienged immediate relief, and has since always found it an effectual protection from all malarious com-

On further investigation he found that the boatman attributed to it miraculous powers, and said that it could only be obtained from the Priests of the Sun. Sometime afterwards, the gentleman in conversing with a Priest obtained from him the seeret of its preparation, and ascertaited where the medicinal herbs were found, of which it was compounded. The wonderful virtues of this article have induced a full belief in the minds of the natives in the miraculous healing powers of their

LAST ILLNESS AND DEATH OF PA-TRICK HENRY.

Dr. George Cabell, of Lynchburg, attended him. His disease was intus susceptis; and as a last resort, a dose of liquid mercury was prescribed. He asked the Doctor what would be its effect? He replied that it would give him instantaneous relief; or he could live but a very short time after taking it. He swallowed the medicine, which produced no beneficial effect. He then calmly felt his pulse and examined his hands; and finding that his end was approaching, he turned to Dr. Cable, who was a skeptic, and said: "Doctor, I have often endeavored to convince you that the Christian religion is true. I will now give you my last argument by showing you how a Christian can die." He then prayed in a low tone of voice, but audibly and distinctly, an earnest prayer committing himself and his family to the care of the God of our salvation, which so affected Dr. Cabell that he burst into tears and ran out of the room. He then endeavored to comfort his wife, who was weeping bitterly; and among other things which he said, he begged her to be consoled by the many proofs they both had experienced of the great mercy of God; and he concluded his words of consolation by thanking his Heavenly Father for permitting him to die without suffering any severe pain of body or mind. In a few moments after this expression of his gratitude for dying grace, he seemed to sink into a quiet sleep; and without
